Canadian administrative law is the body of law that addresses the actions and operations of governments and governmental agencies in Canada. That is, the law concerns the manner in which courts can review the decisions of administrative decision-makers (ADMs) such as a board, tribunal, commission, agency or Crown minister, when he or she exercises ministerial discretion.

Canadian administrative law - Wikipedia

Canadian parties have access to a dedicated administrative team and dozens of independent arbitrators and mediators across Canada. The Canadian Dispute Resolution Procedures (Including Arbitration and Mediation) are specifically tailored for Canadian practice.
