Teach your child about shapes, colors, days of the week, months, and seasons of the year with this adorable book about a mother's love for her child. Most importantly teach your child about how despite the rules that seem unfair, why we have them and how they are another way we show how much we love them. Sometimes parenting can seem mean, and setting and enforcing rules is hard on us too. We want to give our kids the world while still shaping them into decent human beings! I hope this book will be another way to remind your child just how much you love them and that it's your job as a parent to not only love them, but to also teach them and protect them.
